Accreditation for Pharmacists

The American Society of Health-System Pharmacists is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education as a provider of continuing pharmacy education.

Target Audience

This continuing pharmacy education activity is designed for pharmacists in the ambulatory care setting.

Activity Overview

Through Giant Leaps, Baby Steps and the Occasional Stumble

Pharmacists – and increasingly other healthcare providers and leaders – recognize the need to increase ambulatory care pharmacy services in number and scope. But how? In this webinar, panelists will discuss their experience with developing and expanding ambulatory care pharmacy services in different settings, including institutional, health-system, state and regional efforts. Successes, challenges and lessons learned will be shared.

Learning Objectives

After participating in this CPE activity, participants should be able to:

1. Identify 3 opportunities to advance ambulatory pharmacy services.
2. Describe elements of business model(s) that can be used to support new or expanded ambulatory pharmacy services.
3. Summarize 2 “lessons” discussed by the panel.

Schedule of Educational Activities

- Opportunities to advance pharmacy services in ambulatory care
- Essential elements of business plans for ambulatory care services
- Lessons from implementing services
