I. ASHP Research and Education Foundation

The ASHP Foundation is a 501(c) 3 charitable organization affiliated with the American Society of Health System Pharmacists (ASHP), the national professional society for pharmacists practicing in hospitals and health systems. The ASHP Foundation was founded in 1968 and currently conducts a range of formal education and research programs designed to foster safe and effective medication use. The Foundation's strategic priorities are:

- 1) the design and study of safe and effective medication-use systems;
- 2) advancement of optimal patient medication outcomes; and
- 3) the expansion of pharmacists' direct patient care and leadership roles.

The ASHP Foundation's programs support research and education in a variety of health-system settings such as hospitals, home care, ambulatory care, managed care organizations, and long-term care. The Pharmacy Residency Excellence Awards are designed to support the Foundation's efforts under its third strategic priority: the expansion of pharmacists' direct patient care and leadership roles.

II. Program Overview

The Pharmacy Residency Excellence Awards Program was developed and administered for the first time in 2006. Currently, there is no other program that recognizes excellence and leadership in the training and mentoring of pharmacy residents. The program is designed to: (1) provide national recognition for residency preceptors and specific residency programs who have demonstrated innovation and excellence in the training of pharmacy residents; and (2) encourage others to strive to be innovative and achieve excellence in pharmacy resident training. Individuals may self nominate or be recommended by other practitioners for an award and must complete an application process in accordance with the criteria established by an external expert advisory panel composed of six pharmacists with extensive experience in residency training and education.

The award criteria focus primarily on innovative methods to train, mentor and motivate residents during their residency program and in the early formative years of their careers.

III. Category Overview

The New Preceptor Award recognizes an individual within their first 3-5 years as a residency preceptor who has excelled in the training of residents. Recognition of these new preceptors should provide role models for other individuals who are new to residency education. Recipients of this award should embody the following characteristics: (1) history of significant contributions to residency training during the first 3-5 years as a residency preceptor; (2) demonstrated leadership qualities; (3) respected by peers; (4) innovative resident educator; (5) contributor to research and service at the community and organizational levels; (6) track record for instilling these qualities in their residents and positively influencing their careers. Since the purpose of this award is to recognize preceptors who have just begun to have an impact on the training of residents, reviewers will focus on the applicants achievement as described in the selection criteria over the past 3-5 years and the potential for this preceptor to excel in these areas in the future.

The awards recipients are recognized at a reception at the ASHP Midyear Clinical Meeting. The reception provides a venue for the recipients to highlight their accomplishments. To further achieve high profile recognition and wide dissemination of the awards program, recipients and their organizations will also be featured in a full page advertisement in the American Journal of Health-System Pharmacy following the Midyear Clinical Meeting. Program directors and preceptors from the over 1,000 ASHP-accredited residency programs will be invited to the reception. Announcement of award recipients will occur at the reception and be extensively promoted during the Midyear Clinical Meeting.

IV. Timeline for the 2011-2012 Award Cycle

- Applications available – May 3, 2011
- Application deadline – July 29, 2011
- Recipients notified – September 2011
- Announcement of Recipients – December 2011

V. Eligibility

Applicants should meet the following eligibility requirements:

- A licensed practicing pharmacist.
- A pharmacy residency preceptor in an ASHP-accredited program for five years or less.
- Meets or exceeds the minimum requirements for preceptors in the ASHP Residency Accreditation Standards.
- Selection panel members, ASHP staff members, ASHP Foundation staff members, members of the ASHP Research and Education Foundation Board of Directors, members of the ASHP Board of Directors, contractors and lead surveyors retained by ASHP accreditation services, and the respective residency programs of any of the above, are not eligible to apply for the Pharmacy Residency Excellence Awards.

VI. Selection Criteria

All applications will be reviewed by a panel appointed by the ASHP Foundation Board of Directors. The panel will review the applicant's materials and score them according to the following application criteria:

Significant Contributions to Residency Training (20 points)

Applicants should have made contributions for up to five years as a preceptor that would be considered significant (i.e. above and beyond minimum contributions described in the residency standard for ASHP-accredited pharmacy residency programs). Significant contributions to residency training may include participation as a volunteer in accreditation surveys of other residency programs, enrichment of pharmacy residency training on a regional or national level, and service as an investigator for pharmacy residency research projects.

Teaching Philosophy and Methods (15 points)

The applicant should describe his or her teaching philosophy and the methods through which this teaching philosophy is employed. Specific areas that should be addressed include the applicant's personal expression of professional goals and values, how those goals and values are expressed in the training of pharmacy residents and how the preceptor uses standards to measure their teaching methods, activities, effectiveness and achievements in training pharmacy residents.

Mentorship (25 points)

Applicants should be able to describe their mentoring qualities in such areas as helping residents make decisions and setting and reaching goals, establishing one's own practice philosophy and skills, and having compassion for resident's progress and unique situations. The applicant should also have a positive influence on residents' careers and serve as a professional role model to residents.

Leadership (15 points)

The applicant should exemplify personal leadership qualities and at the practice, departmental, institutional, state and national levels. The application should have evidence of the preceptor being respected by their, peers, having an influence in residency training, demonstrating initiative in new areas and using sound leadership principles to make decisions.

Active Participation (25 points)

The applicant should actively participate in research, educational initiatives and service in organizations and the community. Applicants should also foster interest and involvement in these activities among their residents.
