

Biography
Paul G. Pierpaoli

Born: Providence, Rhode Island

Education: University of Rhode Island, Kingston, Rhode Island
College of Pharmacy, Bachelors (1960)

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan
Rackham School of Graduate Studies,
MS Hospital Pharmacy (1960-1962)

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan
Hospital Pharmacy Residency (1960-1962)

Positions Held: Assistant to the Chief, Pharmacy Department
National Institutes of Health (1962-1964)

Director of Pharmacy
The Union Memorial Hospital (1964-1965)

Co-Investigator, U.S. Public Health Services Grant
Boston City Hospital (1966-1967)

Director of Pharmacy
The Norwalk Hospital (1967-1968)

Director of Pharmacy
The University of Connecticut Health Center, John
Dempsey Hospital (1968-1977)

Director of Pharmacy Services
Medical College of Virginia Hospitals (1977-1984)

Director of Pharmacy Services
Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center (1984-1998)

Senior Vice President, Pharmacy Practice
McKesson Medication Management (1998-2006)

Significant Offices: American Society of Hospital Pharmacists, President
Connecticut Society of Hospital Pharmacists, President

Significant Awards: Harvey A.K. Whitney Lecture Award (ASHP)

Major Professional Accomplishments

- Responsible for the conceptualization, planning, development and initial implementation of the intravenous admixture service program at the Clinical Center, National Institutes of Health. This subsequently became a standard of hospital pharmacy practice in the U.S. hospitals.
- Developed residency training programs in three academic health science center hospitals. One hundred nineteen residents completed these training programs.
- Provided regional and national leadership in the development and implementation of clinical pharmacy services in hospitals.
- Contributed to the leadership legacy of health-system pharmacy over five decades through active participation and service as an Officer and Board Member of the American Society of Health-System Pharmacists.