“Our mission - caring for life – takes many forms, from our focus on being a reliable manufacturer and supplier of quality products to who we collaborate with to help advance that mission. A great example of this is the ASHP Foundation Corporate Partners Program, where we can work together with ASHP to support the optimization of safe medication use and practices.

The opportunities to collaborate with the ASHP Foundation on important initiatives such as research and optimizing medication related processes and outcomes through data analytics and digital solutions are other ways that we are working together to improve health care.

The Corporate Partners Program provides significant and relevant insights into new programs, research advisory council activities, and new technology solutions that ASHP is focused on.

Our shared goals of improving patient safety, medication utilization, and overall health care are the core values of our partnership and we look forward to the opportunities to continue to collaborate and partner together on these and many other important initiatives through the Corporate Partners Program.”
